The Bulletin.

Norwich, Monday, July 5, 1909.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Such a sale of flags and badges!

Today Norwich is the capital of the nation.

The Otis library will be open today until noon.

With no racket of firecrackers it was more like Peace day than Fourth of July.

The New York boat Sunday morning brought hundreds of visitors to Norwich.

The ideal weather of Saturday and Sunday was the subject of general felicitation.

A class of fifty-one received first Holy Communion at St. Patrick's church on Sunday.

At 250, the Rose of New England is certainly the Queen Rose of the rose-bud garden of girls!

Holiday travel, which began on Thursday, reached big proportions on Saturday and Sunday.

Today 4.38, Sackam park, C. A. C. vs.

Stonington, Adm. 15c. Ladies free.

Grandstand 10c.—adv.

The severe thunderstorm early Saturday morning did very little damage to the handsome decorations.

Pity the census enumerator could not count the population of the city with all the streets so crowded!

The whistling of quail is frequently heard and strollers in the woods have seen several flocks of young partridge.

Home-comers after twenty or twenty-five years open their eyes as they note the rush of trolley traffic radiating from Franklin square.

The members of the court of common council will meet at 1 o'clock today at the council chamber to take part in the parade.—adv.

The first installment of 150,000 new pennies, with Lincoln's face in place of the familiar head of the Indian, are ready for delivery.

During the absence of the pastor of the First Church of Christ, New London, Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Howe of Park church, Norwich, will preach on July 26.

Botanical parties are making the trip down the Norwich & Western line to North Stonington swamps, where the famous rhododendrons are now in bloom.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Courtney Haskett of West Main street had a happy family reunion on Sunday. It was the first time the family had all been present for many years.

Mrs. Brown of Ann street, mother of the Rev. Henry Brown of Brooklyn,

N. Y., passed her 95th birthday Sunday, and received little tokens of regard from friends and neighbors.

If you wish to enjoy yourself, attend the social given by St. Mary's

T. A. B. society, T. A. B. hall, July 5th.

Dancing 8-12; admission 25c. Baker's orchestra.—adv.

Total receipts from internal revenue for the district of Connecticut (Connecticut and Rhode Island) for 1909 aggregate $1,801,401.59, which is $23,447.70 less than the collections of 1908.

James M. Perkins, 88, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leander Eccleston, in Jordan, Friday. He was in the Fourteenth Connecticut. For many years he had prospered as a farmer in Waterford.

Governor Weeks has approved the following bills, the quarterly appropriations for various hospitals, Norwich

Memorial of New London, Middlesex,

Waterbury, Stamford, each for $1250;

St. Francis, Hartford, $2500; Bridgeport, $2575.

Mrs. Louise M. Rogers, wife of Charles L. Rogers, died Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peter W.

Anderson, 35 Sherman street, New London. The funeral took place Sunday and the body was taken to Tradi-ing Cove for burial.

director, and Organist W. H. Bush of the Second Congregational church, of New London, arranged the following programme for the Sunday evening praise service, including a soprano solo, The Good Shepherd, by Mrs. F.

H. Merrill of Norwich.

At the annual meeting of the Connecticut state board of agriculture, held in the capital, Iveson C. Fenton of Weston was elected secretary.

James P. Brown of North Stonington, former secretary of the board, was not a candidate for re-election. Gov.

Frank B. Weeks is president of the board.

Because of the possibility of the spread of the contagion of tuberculosis through the medium of public telephone instruments, state tuberculosis associations are asking that suitable means tending toward the reduction of such danger through efficient, perhaps daily, sterilization of the suspected portion be instituted by the S. N.

E. Telephone Co.

A Good Piece of Work.

Senator Bulkeley delayed action on the income tax amendment in the senate the other day by refusing to give consent to having it made the order of the day for Tuesday. The senator said that he was going with the president to Norwich's 150th anniversary celebration. It seems to be pretty good piece of press agent work that the senator pulled off for Norwich.—Waterbury Republican.

Transformer Caught Fire.

The fire department was called out Saturday night for a fire caused by the overloading of a transformer in front of the Quincke building. It was the cause of but little trouble and was soon put out.

Wanted at Home.

Some people account for the heat of the season by reason of Mr. Fairbank's absence in the far east.—Washington
